Perspectives in Biology and Medicine

autumn 2024 • volume 67, number 4

Special Issue
Encountering Disability Through Wonder
Edited by Rosemarie Garland-Thomson and Devan Stahl

A Call to Wonder: Reimagining Disability 483
Rosemarie Garland-Thomson

Scans and Prints 496
Devan Stahl

Wonder of Wonders: How Nonstandard Lives Help Us to Remain Human 507
Brian Brock

Disability and the Practice of Wonder 517
Julia Watts Belser

My Ancestors Were One-Celled Organisms 527
Anne Finger

Donning the Imaging Gown: Enchanting the Ill and Pregnant Body in Art 532
Darian Goldin Stahl

Of Jellybeans and Morning Glories 541
Yomi Sachiko Young

Koan: Leonard Laughing 547
Tracy Fessenden

People on Floors: Creating Relics Out of Medical Waste 556
Jaime Konerman-Sease

People in Drawers: Finding Wonder in the Archives 566
John Gulledge

From Wonder to Anger: Rethinking The Showman and the Slave Through Standpoint Theory 577
Benjamin Reiss

Helen Keller and the Burden of Wonder 588
David Serlin

The Isenheim Altarpiece and the Virtue(s) of Wonder 595
Lydia S. Dugdale

Wonder with Care: How "Crip Participation" Engages Activism 604
Jessica A. Cooley and Ann M. Fox

"Control Freaks": Evaluating Concerns of Ableism in the Perinatal Environment 619
Tyler Tate

The World Turned Upside Down: Wonder, Disgust, and the Alienation Effect 631
Stephen Unwin

"First, Do No Harm?" Metaphysical Harm and the Need for Iconic Perception 642
Kimbell Kornu